

About Archer

Archer delivers powerful results to its clients regionally and nationally. For over 95 years, we have been providing full-service litigation and transactional legal services to Fortune 100 corporations, small and middle-market companies, closely-held and family-owned businesses, and individuals. Being fully invested in our clients' success means it's more than just law to us – it's about creating long-term value for our clients. We are always looking ahead to anticipate and advise in a rapidly changing world to help expand what's possible for your business. We are not only there for you in those critical moments, but with our deep understanding of your business and goals, we are always thinking about what comes next. Our clients rely on us to provide sophisticated legal services and deep industry experience and know that we are a firm that embraces change and drives innovation. That's how we are built.

Our Approach

It's not just what we do for our clients that matters, it's how we do it. In true partnership, we tackle more than your current legal needs. We work hard to understand what success looks like for you and become a valuable extension of your team. Always keeping your future in mind, we look to turn uncertainty into a possibility and meaningful change into long-term progress. We are a strong team that knows our clients, their businesses and industries and we bring innovative solutions to your business problems. Our integrated thinking and collective mindset are at the heart of how we deliver value to our clients. We draw on the strength of all our practices and multidisciplinary teams. This collaboration ensures that our clients receive complete, coordinated and comprehensive counsel in every area of the law that impacts their businesses. With your best interests as our top priority, we are always focused on a results-oriented approach and ensuring you receive practical, smart, responsive, and cost-effective counsel.

Firm Culture

Within Archer's culture, diversity and collaboration run deep, where together each of us can fully participate in the life and work of our firm. Ours is an inclusive environment where maximizing the power of all differences defines our success. Working together may be our best practice. We are a firm where our employees feel connected to each other and by a shared purpose - one that celebrates long-standing, collegial relationships with our clients through uncompromising legal service. As it relates to our work for clients or Archer in general, all of our firm members are encouraged to share their ideas and perspectives. We have always nurtured a culture that inspires each person to reach their fullest potential and take pleasure in their work. At Archer, we empower all of our employees with the resources and skills that fosters innovative thinking, professional growth and mutual trust. Our values impact how we do business, how we care for clients, and how we engage each other. The way we work together benefits everyone, including our clients.

Why Archer?

Always going beyond the expected, we are a firm that connects with our clients, cares, and delivers results in a way that is uniquely our own. We are dedicated to the responsiveness, efficiency, flexibility, and personal attention expected from a true partner.
