Archer is proud to announce that partner Sarah A. Gribbin was selected to receive an “Unsung Heroes” New Jersey Legal Award from the New Jersey Law Journal. The award celebrates attorneys who may work long hours behind the scenes but are indispensable to the efforts and success of the firm.

Over the course of her almost 15 years at Archer, Sarah has made significant contributions to the firm’s culture and client matters. As an environmental law attorney, Sarah plays an integral role in Archer’s Environmental Law Group, and has been recognized by Chambers 2024 as ‘Up and Coming.’ As chair of Archer’s Hiring Committee, Sarah places particular emphasis on continuing to build a diverse body of accomplished associates.

In her environmental law practice, Sarah focuses on multi-party litigation handling environmental contamination litigation, as well as issues of property damage and physical injury, and natural resource damage claims. Meticulous about the cases she handles, Sarah’s organizational skills and mastery of details are essential to her handling complicated matters, which involve dozens of contaminated sites, facts that date back decades, and hundreds of highly technical scientific reports.

As Hiring Committee Chair, Sarah is responsible for the firm’s Summer Associate Program and it’s clear how much she cares about each student. Sarah also goes out of her way to support other firm programs and initiatives, regularly attending pro bono programs, serving as a mentor, and helping to plan firm social activities.

The honorees will be recognized at the New Jersey Law Journal’s awards dinner, scheduled for October 29 at Park Chateau Estate in East Brunswick .

The New Jersey Legal Awards are published by the New Jersey Law Journal. A description of the selection methodology can be found here.
